2010 informing, entertaining and empowering audiences

lifechangingdocos

and the Gold Coast Arts Centre proudly presents

[THE FUTURE OF FOOD]

WED 17 FEB 2010 // 6PM

THE BASEMENT // GOLD COAST ARTS CENTRE
135 BUNDALL ROAD SURFERS PARADISE

TICKETS $8.50 ONLINE // $12 AT THE DOOR

($1.46 BOOKING FEE APPLIES ONLINE.) UNLESS SOLD OUT

Join us for the launch of the first ever Gold Coast series of Life Changing Documentaries. Fabulous organic food and wine will be available from 6.00pm, and the movie starts at 6.30pm. After the screening a panel of on-stage experts will discuss the issues raised by the film, and field questions from the audience.

Please consider the environment when considering your travelling options to and from the venue. Reduce your carbon footprint by walking, riding or carpooling.

> "The film covers all the key agricultural, social and political issues surrounding the industrialisation of agriculture and genetic engineering."
>
> Craig Sams, Chairman,
> Soil Association, Great Britain

> "…sober, far-reaching polemic against genetically modified foods… Quietly inflammatory. Unsettling."
>
> Stephen Holden,
> The New York Times

BOOK ONLINE NOW AT www.lifechangingdocumentaries.com

Book online before the 10/02/10 and receive 20% OFF the early bird ticket price. Just enter the discount code:

Presented By

GOLD COAST ARTS CENTRE

the health imperative

Australian Made Organics

Sponsored By

YOUR GUARANTEE OF INTEGRITY AUSTRALIAN CERTIFIED ORGANIC

the ecovillage AT CURRUMBIN

wray organic market & cafe

miessence

With Thanks To

www.FORGREENIES.com

Gwinganna Lifestyle Retreat

Printed by Statesman Press. Graphics by Dorratt Design.